

Computer Issues: I am looking to buy a new computer to run my HVE software. Any recommendations?

Based upon anecdotal reports from users, a wide variety of makes and models of desktop and laptop (notebook) computers are great platforms for running HVE. Our main advice is that we still recommend NVIDIA graphics chipsets over Intel Integrated or ATI chipsets. Users have reported the most stable operation of their HVE software when running on computers with NVIDIA graphics cards, especially the NVIDIA GeForce line. If you have a question about a specific make and model, please call EDC Technical Support for advice.
